

Parent Brag Sheet

1. What do you consider to be the outstanding accomplishments of your child during the past three or four years? Why did you select these as the most important?

Mitchell has grown to be a respectful man who attracts the attention of others in conversation. He is engaging, interesting, a good listener and very knowledgeable and a truly caring boy. Mitchell has taken charge of his future, set his goals high in terms of attending college and what he would like to achieve in life. Mitchell has greatly improved his skills to ride his dirt bike with his Dad along with other sports and hobbies they are involved in.

2. In what areas has your child shown the most development and growth during the past three to four years?

Mitchell has learned responsibility, while his Father was deployed twice, Mitchell assumed duties without being asked. Became the man of the house and learned to be a very practical logical thinker.

Mitchell has developed more compassion, as I am going through a recent health crisis he has been very loving and supportive and recognizes where emotional support/help is needed more than a child his age normally would.

3. What do you consider to be his/her outstanding personality traits?

Mitchell is so outgoing, fun to be around, easy to talk to very level headed. He can sit in a group of adults and carry on conversation showing interest in each person and usually has more knowledge on subjects than you would imagine for his age. He has a magnetic personality. He is kind, caring and sensitive. He is an amazing young man.

4. What are the best five adjectives that describe your son/daughter?

Outgoing
Compassionate
Dedicated
Hardworking
Selfless

5. Are there any unusual or personal circumstances that have affected your child's educational experience?

Being a military family, we have moved alot. His Father has deployed twice in the 5 years we have been in San Diego and we have had many stressful situations where we have had to battle just to stay here for Mitchell to graduate from high school without making another move.. I think each time he started over and had to adjust it affected how well he did in school. I am currently going through cancer treatment, although my results are positive, I think the worry and unknown affects Mitchell. When he was in elementary school his father had a devastating accident that our family dealt with for over 3 years during recovery. These are major life changes that not all children have to deal with, but for Mitchell it has made him a stronger person. He realizes the importance of family and living each day with a positive attitude. He is in charge of himself and has set high goals for his academic achievements.
