

Nestlé Nutrition Institute

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Effect of Specialized Nutrition on Surgical Outcomes

Featuring Guest Speaker:
Keith Miller, MD
University of Louisville
Department of Surgery
Louisville, KY

You are invited to attend a complimentary education program followed by a Q & A session

Live Lecture

Date: April 21, 2015

Time:

5:00pm - 5:30pm Networking

5:30pm - 6:30pm - Lecture

6:30pm - 6:45pm - Q & A

Location:

Houston Methodist Hospital
Rio Grande Conference Room

Dinner will be provided by Nestlé

By your participation in this event, you are declaring that your participation is in compliance with the laws of your state and presents no conflict of interest with your facility's policies and procedures.

Notice to Physicians:

If a meal or refreshments are provided, the value will be reported in accordance with the Sunshine provisions of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010.

Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Describe the improved clinical outcomes demonstrated when perioperative immunonutrition is applied in major surgery
- Explain the basic science of immunonutrition in helping to reduce the risk of postoperative infectious complications
- Discuss the health economics potential this new standard of nutritional care brings to institutions and the health care system in the surgical care of GI cancer patients
- Explain evidence-based research on ERAS and Carbohydrate loading
- Discuss the benefits of having immunonutrition pre-op as part of an ERAS protocol

Financial sponsorship provided by Nestlé HealthCare Nutrition, Inc.

Nestlé HealthCare Nutrition is a Continuing Professional Education Accredited Provider with the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). CDR Credentialed Practitioners will receive one continuing professional education unit (CPEU) for completion of this program. Provider number NE008.

CPE
Accredited Provider

Commission on Dietetic Registration
the credentialing agency for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Nestlé HealthCare Nutrition is a provider through the California Board of Registered Nursing, provider number 11366. One contact hour is available for nurses.

There is no charge for attending this program.