To whom it may concern:

I have known Tamara for quite a few years. She is a very close friend of mine and colleague and is someone who I think very highly of and have the utmost respect for.

Tamara has high moral standards, and a sense of direction and purpose. She is someone who commits wholeheartedly to everything that she does, and goes above and beyond. She is passionate, dedicated and enthusiastic.

Tamara's ability to communicate easily and effectively makes her easy to get along with and a loyal friend. She has an excellent rapport with people and treats others with courtesy and respect. She is someone who you can count on and trust.

Tamara remains calm under pressure and has the remarkable ability to make others feel comfortable and at ease. Her passion for people really stands out, and her empathy towards others is one of her key character traits.

Tamara is efficient and extremely competent. She is extremely organised, and has proved reliable and dependable in all situations. She is always willing to help no matter how busy she is, and has on numerous occasions dropped what she was busy with to assist me.

Tamara is well known for her energy, cheerfulness and her caring nature. She is an extremely hard worker and her motivation and discipline contribute to her success. She is a phenomenal team leader who currently manages a team of five. She is invested in helping others develop and seeing them succeed. She inspires team members to do their best and works as a morale booster for the rest of the team if things aren't going as planned.

Tamara will be a valuable asset to any organisation and I recommend her without reservation. If you need any further information please don't hesitate to contact me.
