What I Do...

- Standardize and automate routine procedures where possible to increase efficiency, reduce potential errors and improve quality
- Leverage the power of business intelligence reporting tools for corporate decisions
- Build and enhance financial models to forecast and report on revenues, expenses, and financial performance
- Focus on improving the efficiency and effectiveness of your company core activities
- Define business requirements and conduct both current and future state analysis

Where I've been...

- Prior to becoming a freelance consultant, I was a Financial Analyst at KPMG, LLP, where I was part of the People Soft Implementation engagement reporting system testing team for project accounting for Assurance and Tax Practice Group.
- I provided training for partners and managers of the firm on the new reporting system and advised on best firm practices for profit realization, risk management and stakeholders engagement reporting.
- That experience led me to a successful career as a freelance Management Consultant at various organizations such as Fannie Mae, Bearing Point, the Carlyle Group, the World Bank, Host Hotels & Resorts, and PNC Bank just to name a few.

How I've help...

- Implemented a cloud-based T&E system solution to automate business processes and policy and controls.
- Created training information for a government-sponsored enterprise client improving debt securities reporting resulting in a 65% decreased in portfolio risk
- Optimized the collection process and invoicing which resulted in the reduction of past due receivable by over 50% within 6 months and reduced invoice processing from 3 weeks to two days.
- Helped a client overhaul its Accounting department, improved its analytics capabilities and streamlined the operational process to increase revenue, productivity, and reduced operational costs and risks.
