

MOUTH OF THE HUMBER

Lee Cassanell's 2007 Prediction Special

Illustration by Paul Newbould

January

Someone contracts leukemia and asks you to donate some bone-marrow. George Bush gets assassinated by midgets dressed as winged monkeys. Bob Dylan plays a barn-storming "Shaddup a ya face" during his maiden Adelphi Gig. The bailiffs break your legs because you fleeced all your credit cards at Christmas.

February

Jesus comes back from the dead and gets photographed in a crack den blowing rock smoke up Kate Moss's bum. The Silver Fox and King Rat of Cracktown are hired to star in a star-studded remake of Smokey and the bandit. You discover the rash on your chest, that you thought was pimples, is actually rabies. Your toilet overflows because you wiped your arse with newspaper and now shitty water is dripping through the kitchen ceiling.

March

Wayne Rooney becomes a Muslim and changes his name to Cassius Clay. Laughing gas is pumped into the London underground to cheer the miserable commuters up. Your partner asks you if you've ever considered a threesome. Tony Blair declares martial law because of the increasing Terrorist threat.

April

The British government is overthrown and the peasants feast for forty days and nights. Paul McCartney's single "Wife Beater Blues" hits No1 in the download Charts. Sting is caught masturbating with live bait. Hull City Council fires all of it's incompetent staff and replaces them with beetroot.

May

Nothing Happens. You stay in for a month smoking fags and watching back-to-back episodes of Everybody Loves Raymond.

June

Jimmy White wins the world snooker championships after beating Ronnie O'Sullivan in a nail biting final. You go on a romantic weekend for two in Paris and your Partner admits to being unfaithful. Bruce Willis becomes President of the United States. The last episode of Lost is held to ransom by Islamic extremists and the UN pays up.

July

The sun comes out and you decide to sit in a Princes Ave Café bar for a "Quiet Drink".

September

You wake up with suntan burns and a cruel hangover and it slowly dawns on you that you have missed August, you stink of dirty ashtrays and your hands won't stop shaking.

October

The Bransholme riot claims the life of 6000 of its residents and Burberry goes bankrupt. Tenfootcity wins a National Literature award and Ray cries during his thank-you speech. Archaeologists discover an Alien spaceship frozen in the Siberian Ice. The Landlady of The Queens pub, performs a long overdue strip-tease in the pool room.

November

You quit your job and run away to Thailand with a stranger you met 3 days ago. The Pope is struck by a bolt of lightning and everybody starts worshipping Zeus. Disney World Iraq opens in Baghdad and Osama Bin Laden cuts the ribbon. Thailand is overthrown by a homicidal dictator and you spend the next 10 years in prison.

December

You lie in a cold, damp, cockroach-infested cell talking to shadows and eating your own dead skin

Roll on 2008...

