To Whom It May Concern,

This is a letter of recommendation written on behalf of Scott Douglass.

I have known Scott for 8 years. He was my band student at Logansport High School. In this time, I have known Scott to be an enthusiastic person who is not afraid to stand up for that in which he believes. All through his high school band career, he had a great sense of teamwork and more school spirit than any student I had ever seen. He was always in good spirits when it came time to perform with the band and cheer on the Logansport Berries. Also, his love of Purdue University was well known to everyone. I was happy that he was able to attend his favorite university and extremely proud that he was successful in his bid to join the All-American Marching Band at Purdue.

Throughout his college career I have maintained ties with Scott and have watched him develop a strong sense of direction. He has expanded his mind to new thoughts and has a strong value system. Scott has also taken an in-depth look at the world scene and has formulated well-founded ideas and impressions of it.

Scott has succeeded in preparing himself for adulthood and it has been a privilege in working with him and knowing him. I would recommend and support him in the endeavors of his choice.

Sincerely,

Jason W. Crittendon
