Trent McEntire, director of McEntire Pilates, displays hats and scarves, which were donated by McEntire Pilates and Skeins on Main to Rochester's McGregor Elementary School. The staff and clients of McEntire Pilates have adopted McGregor as part of its giving back program. Donors give different items to the students each month. The program kicked off at the beginning of the school year when McEntire staff and clients donated school supplies. It has also donated coats and other outerwear items for both winter and spring. Donors will continue to meet a new need every month till the end of the school year. "I am proud of our giving back program," McEntire said. "I look forward to seeing more businesses partnering with us for greater success. Together, we can compound the benefits to our local kids that have a genuine need." McEntire Pilates hopes to inspire other downtown Rochester businesses to join its giving back program.
