

A & S Bulletin

Dec. 11, 2011

Volume 1 Issue 1

Also in this issue:

- James Marsden,
Former Cowboy
- Remembering
OSU Alumni
- OSU's Hall of Fame
- Spring Alumni
Event

Leadership Skills Put to the Test

Former OSU's student body president and recent graduate, Kelly Offutt, interns with U.S. House of Representatives Speaker, John Boehner, where her leadership skills acquired at the university became beneficial.

Award Accepted by Determined Dreamer

Rex M. Linn, journalism and broadcasting graduate and Hollywood actor receives Distinguished Alumnus Award at the honors and awards banquet where he encourages students to chase after unobtainable dreams.

Tragic Death Strikes Stillwater Community

Suffering with pancreatic cancer, Gillian Sherwood, wife of professor and dean of the OSU College of Arts and Sciences, Peter Sherwood, dies on Jan. 24, at the age of 69.

Dean Reminisces About Occupation Before Retirement

After more than four decades as a faculty member, OSU's College of Arts and Sciences' dean, Peter Sherwood announces his retirement and discusses the changes in the college throughout his career.

Past Career Experiences Become Useful

From executive director position of Oklahoma's Native American Cultural and Education Authority to memberships on local committees, Gena Timberman uses her experience in hopes of expanding the American Indian Cultural Center and Museum.

Contact Information: Lorene A. Roberson at (405) 744-7497 or <mailto:lorene@okstate.edu>