

Arts and Science Global

The official e-magazine for the College of Arts and Sciences, Oklahoma State University

Sept. 13, 2012

Volume 1 Issue 1

Table of Contents
Student council success
Murray Hall changes campus
Girish Agarwal studies quantum optics

A&S Dean named Regents professor

Peter Sherwood, OSU's Dean of Arts and Sciences, has influenced students everywhere from the United Kingdom, to Manhattan, Kansas. He is thankful to have settled in Stillwater, teaching research classes, publishing articles, and assisting students.

How to: Internships

Germaine Paul, public relations junior, offers advice on securing internships early.

Riley Dunlap stresses environmental sociology

Regents professor influences students in the United States, Korea, Japan and China to respect the environment. He encourages students to think beyond water and air pollution.

Morrill Hall houses English department

All things writing, grammar and reading settle into the second oldest building on campus. After changing buildings several times, the writing center has found a place to call home.

Arts and Sciences plans success

Students success center opened to help students achieve goals. Staff available for advice on succeeding in school and going on to secure a job.

Contact Information: Lorene A. Roberson at 405-744-7497 or lorener@okstate.edu