

To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the distinct blessing for working with Darci at week long High School Church Camps. During these camps, I served as Chaplain, overseeing the spiritual life of the camp and Darci served as a Counselor and Small Group Leader.

One of Darci's strengths is her ability to work on the staff with a wide range of people who hold varying degrees of Biblical, Theological views. She is respectful to all, while holding firm to her Core Beliefs. During the second year, the Camp Director trusted Darci to be available on our "night of silence" for students to come to for prayer and counsel.

On more than one occasion I directed campers to have a conversation with Darci, because I knew that she could communicate the Biblical principles to the students in a respectful way and in the context of listening deeply. I knew that she would respond well to these students by listening and with prayer.

Darci's motivation and positive attitude are the fruits of her relationship with God through Jesus Christ. She loves Jesus and exhibits self-control and an attitude of surrender. She communicates her faith in a gentle yet powerful way and shares God's love in her actions.

As a Camp Counselor, it is vital to be a self starter and flexible. Leading small groups for 3-4 hours per day and adapting to differing circumstances, such as weather conditions or student injuries etc. requires it. Darci's groups were always well organized and the students found the experience significant and faith deepening.

My experiences with Darci show her to be a woman of deep and growing faith. She is passionate about conforming her life to the life of Jesus Christ; spiritually, mentally, emotionally and physically.

Darci is one of the most inspirational young leaders that I have had the pleasure to serve with.
